From: Cynthia Taylor
To: Miki Nakamura
Date: February 22, 2014 10:42
Subject: Cooking class

Dear Miki,

Hello. I'm a friend of your host mother. She gave me your e-mail address. Are you enjoying your stay in Toronto? I work at the Canadian International Center. We have a cooking class on Saturday mornings. Each week, we invite people to teach our students about dishes from their home country. Could you come to teach us about Japanese food? We want to learn how to make sushi or tempura. Let me know if you are free on March 1, 8, or 15. The class is from ten to noon, and we'll pay for all the food. I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

Cynthia

Subject: Thank you

Dear Ms. Taylor,

Thank you for your e-mail. My host mother told me about you and the cooking class. It sounds like fun. I'm busy on March 1, and I'm going back to Japan on March 14. But I can come on March 8. I don't know how to make tempura, but sushi is easy to make. I've never been a teacher before, and I can't speak English very well. Is that OK?

Miki

Hi Miki,

Thank you for your quick answer. I'm glad you can come. Don't worry. Most of our volunteers can only speak a little English, and many have never taught anything before. There are about 20 students, and everyone is friendly. Japanese restaurants are very popular now, so everyone will be excited to learn about making sushi. If you have any questions, please e-mail me anytime.

See you soon,

Cynthia

(28) Ms. Taylor wants Miki to

- 1 teach a class about making Japanese food.
- 2 visit different schools in Toronto.
- 3 become a student at the Canadian International Center.
- 4 eat at a Japanese restaurant with her.

(29) When will Miki meet Ms. Taylor?

- 1 On March 1.
- 2 On March 8.
- 3 On March 14.
- 4 On March 15.

(30) Why is Miki worried?

- 1 She is not good at speaking English.
- 2 She has never made sushi before.
- 3 She doesn't like making Japanese food.
- 4 She has to buy all the Japanese food.

George Eliot

Some of the most famous books in the English language were written by George Eliot. But “George Eliot” was not the writer’s real name. George Eliot was really a woman named Mary Anne Evans. She lived in England from 1819 to 1880. During her life, she wrote seven books, but she didn’t use her real name for her writing. She used a man’s name instead.

Mary Anne Evans wrote her first book in 1859. At that time, many women were writing books, and some of these women were famous. But men thought that women could not write good books. They said that women only wrote stories about getting married. Evans used a man’s name because she wanted to write about other things. She wrote about the lives and problems of people in small towns in England. Many people said that George Eliot was a great writer.

At first, no one knew that George Eliot was a woman. Then, a man said that he was George Eliot. So Evans had to tell people her secret,* and soon she became well known. But she still used the name George Eliot for her books because the name was already famous. Many people say that Eliot’s Middlemarch is one of the greatest books in the English language. This book is about many kinds of people and their lives. People began to think differently about women writers because of Eliot’s books. Thanks to her, women today can write about anything, so they can become great writers.
