

CORE ED

Stage 6 Lesson 384

The two types of auxiliary verb

Primary

use to make basic verb structures.

Be - to make the continuous tenses
also use it for the passive voice

Have – use for the perfect tenses,

Do – use for the present simple and past simple

Modal

Express ideas about necessity or possibility.

Can could

Will would

May might

Shall should

Must ought

What are the two basic types of auxiliary verb in English?

The two basic types of auxiliary verb in English are primary auxiliaries and modal auxiliaries

CORE ED

Stage 6 Lesson

What are the primary auxiliaries?

The primary auxiliaries are the verbs "be", "have" and "do"

When do we use the auxiliary "be"?

We use the auxiliary "be" to make the continuous tenses and the passive voice

Give me an example, please.

I am speaking English now.

This book was printed in England.

When do we use the auxiliary "have"?

We use the auxiliary "have" for the perfect tenses.

Give me an example, please.

He has gone to Scotland

CORE ED

Stage 6 Lesson

When do we use the auxiliary "do"?

We use the auxiliary "do" for the present simple and past simple

Give me an example, please.

I don't speak Spanish.

Did she eat the pasta?

What are the ten common modals?

The ten common modals are "can", "could", "will", "would", "may", "might", "shall", "should", "must" and "ought"

What ideas do modals normally express?

Modals normally express ideas about necessity or possibility

CORE ED

Stage 6 Lesson

What ideas do modals normally express?

Modals normally express ideas about necessity or possibility

Now, I will give you a sentence, and you say a sentence with the same meaning, but with a modal:

John is able to speak French.
Perhaps he works in a bank.

John can speak French.
He may (or might) work in a bank.

It is necessary for me to go to bed now.

I must go to bed now.

You are not allowed to smoke in this building.

You can't (or mustn't) smoke in this building.

CORE ED

Stage 6 Lesson 385

set

What does the word "set" mean?

The word "set" means "..."

How long is the time set for a game of football?

The time set... is 90 minutes; that is, 45 minutes each way

What did I set down on the table when I came into the room at the beginning of the lesson?

You set your book down on the table when you ...

If your watch isn't showing the right time, what do you have to do?

If my watch ..., I have to set it right