

CORE ED

Stage 5 Lesson 269

Still

yet

in progress

Remember:

We use "still" for something that is in progress at the moment, whereas we use "yet" for something that has not begun or happened.

For example:

"It is still winter; it isn't spring yet. It is still 20...; it isn't 20... yet. It is still Monday; it isn't Tuesday yet" etc.

We generally use "still" in positive sentences, whereas we generally use "yet" in questions and negative sentences, but not always. We must learn when to use "still" and when to use "yet" by practice.

CORE ED Stage 5

What's the difference between "still" and "yet"?

The difference between "still" and "yet" is that we use "still" for something that is in progress at the moment, whereas we use "yet" for something that has not begun or happened. We generally use "still" in positive sentences, whereas we generally use "yet" in questions and negative sentences.

Give me some examples, please.

It's still winter; it isn't spring yet

Has the lesson finished yet?

No, the lesson hasn't finished yet; it's still in progress

CORE ED Stage 5

Have we finished speaking yet?

No, we haven't finished speaking yet; we're still speaking.

Teacher must say this first:

Lets say for example we're in the classroom together with your two classmates.

Have they gone home yet?

No, they haven't gone home yet; they're still here.

Has the spring (summer etc.) begun yet?

No, the spring (summer etc.) hasn't begun yet; it's still ...

Will I still be in this country in two weeks' time?

Yes, you'll still be ...

CORE ED

Stage 5 Lesson 270

clean

dirty

dirt

Are the bottoms of your shoes clean?

No, the bottoms of my shoes aren't clean;
they're dirty

When our shoes are dirty, what should we do?

When our shoes are dirty,
we should clean them

Which do you think is less unpleasant: the dirt of the city or the dirt of the country, of the farm etc.?

I think the dirt of the ...
is less unpleasant than the dirt of the ...

CORE ED

Stage 5 Lesson 271

win – won – won

lottery

What's another opposite of the verb "lose" besides "find"?

Another opposite of the verb "lose" besides "find" is "win"

What are the three forms of "win"?

The three forms of "win" are "win, won, won"

Does your country usually win at soccer?

Yes, my country ...

~ No, my country ...; it usually loses