EXTERIOR MOUNTAIN SLOPE — DAY

Kristoff heads into the mountains. Sven lags behind, not wanting to follow. He looks back at the kingdom, then shakes his head. Enough. He runs past Kristoff. Stops and turns to face him. He snorts and grunts.

KRISTOFF: What is it, buddy?

Sven nudges Kristoff with his antlers.

KRISTOFF: Hey, watch it. What's wrong with you?

Sven snorts with more conviction, moos, brays.

KRISTOFF: (avoiding) ...I don't understand you when you talk like that.

Kristoff tries to walk on ahead, but Sven uses his antlers to lift Kristoff off the ground.

KRISTOFF: Ah! Stop it! Put me down!

Sven drops him hard then "yells" at him once more.

KRISTOFF: No, Sven! We're not going back!

Sven shakes his head, angrily.

KRISTOFF: She's with her true love.

Sven makes an "of-course-she-isn't" face. Kristoff gets it; he's made his point. Just then the wind picks up. Kristoff looks back at the kingdom. Sees a violent winter storm swirling over the castle. Sharp ice claws its way up the castle, encasing it.

KRISTOFF: Anna.

Without hesitating, he dashes back down the mountain. Sven runs after him, catches up. Kristoff grabs Sven's harness and jumps onto his back.

INTERIOR LIBRARY — NIGHT

Anna shivers by the door. She looks up to see ice overtaking the ceiling. The door handle suddenly jiggles. Stops. Jiggles again.

ANNA: (barely a whisper) Help.

CLICK. The door swings open. We see a carrot in the lock and hear a giggle of victory. Olaf takes the carrot, puts it back on his face. Then he sees Anna lying there.

OLAF: Anna. Oh no.

He runs to the fireplace. Throws in some fresh wood, including one of his own arms, which he quickly rescues, before striking a match and relighting the fire.

ANNA: Olaf? Olaf. Get away from there.

OLAF: Whoa! So this is heat.... (considering) I love it.

He reaches a twig finger toward the flames. It catches on fire.

OLAF: Ooh! But don't touch it!

He shakes the flame out, as he rushes over to help Anna to the fire.

OLAF: So, where's Hans? What happened to your kiss?

ANNA: I was wrong about him. It wasn't true love.

OLAF: (confused innocence) Huh. But we ran all the way here?

ANNA: Please Olaf, you can't stay here; you'll melt.

OLAF: I am not leaving here until we find some other act of true love to save you.

He sits down behind her, stubbornly. Leans his back against hers and thinks.

OLAF: ...Do you happen to have any ideas?

ANNA: I don't even know what love is.

OLAF: (confident) That's okay, I do....

Olaf hops back up and puts a soothing hand on her shoulder.

OLAF: Love is...putting someone else's needs before yours, like, you know, how Kristoff brought you back here to Hans and left you forever.

ANNA: ...Kristoff loves me?

OLAF: Wow, you really don't know anything about love, do you?

His face starts to melt.

ANNA: Olaf, you're melting.

OLAF: (sweet and reassuring) Some people are worth melting for.

But then...his face REALLY melts. He panics, pushes the snow back in place.

OLAF: Just maybe not right this second.

Suddenly, the window blows open, cold wind sweeps in.

OLAF: Don't worry, I've got it!

Olaf flitters to the window. He pulls one panel of it shut but struggles with the second panel.

OLAF: (determined) We're going to get through-- (distracted) Oh, wait. Hang on. I'm getting something.

He breaks an icicle off the window, uses it as a telescope and sees... Kristoff and Sven running back down the mountain.

OLAF: It's Kristoff and Sven! They're coming back this way.

ANNA: ...They-they are?

OLAF: Wow, he's really moving fast. Huh.... I guess I was wrong. I guess Kristoff doesn't love you enough to leave you behind.

Anna tries to get to her feet.

ANNA: Help me up, Olaf. Please.

He hurries over, tumbling over the couch, knocking over the chess set and water jugs.

OLAF: No, no, no, no, no. You need to stay by the fire and keep warm.

ANNA: I need to get to Kristoff.

OLAF: (clueless) Why...? (realizing) Oh, oh, oh, I know why.

He hops around in an excited display of hope.

OLAF: There's your act of true love, right there, riding across the fjords like a valiant, pungent reindeer king! Come on!

The walls crack under the ice pressure.

OLAF: Look out!

They rush out the room just as the ceiling collapses.

INTERIOR CASTLE HALLWAY — DAY

Anna and Olaf struggle down the hall. Ice spikes grow and block their path.

OLAF: We're trapped.

Anna looks around desperately for a way out.

EXTERIOR FJORD — DAY

Elsa runs, but is nearly blinded by the snow and wind.

EXTERIOR CASTLE — DAY

Anna and Olaf bust open a window. The storm is so strong it sweeps the window panes away.

OLAF: Slide, Anna.

It's a long, snowy way down. But what choice do they have? They slide down the iced-covered building. Anna arrives at the bottom, weak but uninjured. Olaf gathers snow along the way. He arrives at the bottom as a giant snowball.

OLAF: We made it!

He shakes off the extra snow as Anna struggles to her feet.
