

The Graduation Party

Conversation Time

A. ^{CD2}₄₈ Listen and repeat. Point to the speakers. Then listen again. 46

Excuse me, officer. Can you please give us directions to the Sunnyville Elementary School?

1.

Of course. It's not far.

We're going to the graduation party. Our grandson Bob is graduating.

2.

That's great! My daughter Emily is graduating, too. I'll be there later.

Harold! We have to hurry. The ice cream is melting!

3.

Oh, no!

Here's a map. Turn left at the light and go straight for two blocks. Then take a right on Elm Street by the bank.

4.

Right by the bank?

5.

Yes, then go down Elm for four blocks. The school will be on the left corner.

Thanks, officer.

Last Saturday, the sixth grade graduation party was held in the SES gym. The party was organized by the students. They decorated the gym with streamers and balloons. Ted and his mother made spaghetti and meatballs, garlic bread, and iced tea. The cake was made by Ms. Apple, and the homemade ice cream and cookies were brought by Bob's grandparents. The food was delicious!

The students' families and teachers arrived at 6:00. Entertainment was provided by the students. They gave speeches, told jokes, and recited poems. Ivy sang the school song beautifully. Everyone was having fun when the party ended at 10:00.

The students are sad to leave SES, but they are excited to attend Sunnyville Junior High School next fall. Congratulations, Sixth Grade!
