

Comment adverbs and viewpoint adverbs

A

We use some adverbs to make a comment on what we are saying.

some comment adverbs:	examples
☆ indicate how likely we think something is	apparently, certainly, clearly, definitely, obviously, presumably, probably, undoubtedly
☆ indicate our attitude to or opinion of what is said	astonishingly, frankly, generally, honestly, interestingly, luckily, naturally, sadly, seriously, surprisingly, unbelievably
☆ show our judgement of someone's actions	bravely, carelessly, foolishly, generously, kindly, rightly, stupidly, wisely, wrongly

Comment adverbs often apply to the whole sentence and are most frequently used in front position (see Unit 75A), although they can also be used at the end of the sentence and in other positions. At the beginning and end of sentences we usually separate them from the rest of the sentence by a comma in writing or by intonation in speech:

- Presumably, he didn't hear me when I called.
- The book was based on his experience in China, apparently.
- If you practise continuously, you will undoubtedly get better.

Comment adverbs which show judgement usually follow the subject, although they can be put in front position for emphasis:

- He kindly offered to give me a lift. (or Kindly, he offered ... to emphasise 'Kindly')

If comment adverbs apply to only part of the sentence they can be used in other positions. Compare:

- Astonishingly, she did well in the exam. (= I was surprised that she did well) and
- She did astonishingly well in the exam. (= she did extremely well)
- You've had a major operation. Obviously, it will be very painful for a while. (= I expect you to know this already) and
- When he stood up it was obviously very painful. (= the pain was clear to see)

B

Some adverbs are used to make clear what viewpoint we are speaking from; that is, identifying what features of something are being talked about:

- Financially, the accident has been a disaster for the owners of the tunnel.
- The brothers may be alike physically, but they have very different personalities.

Also: biologically, environmentally, financially, ideologically, industrially, logically, medically, morally, outwardly, politically, technically, visually

A number of phrases are used in a similar way:

- Politically / In political terms, this summer is a crucial time for the government.

Also: politically speaking, in terms of politics, from a political point of view, as far as politics is / are concerned

Some adverbs or phrases are used to say whose viewpoint we are expressing:

- The head of National Bank is to receive, according to reports, a £1 million bonus.
- In my view, the foreign minister should resign immediately.

Also: to my / his / her (etc.) knowledge, from my / his / her (etc.) perspective, personally, in my / his / her (etc.) opinion
