Part 3: Short Conversations Tapescripts

1. M: Well, you got one-hundred percent on the written part of your test. Now you need to take the road test. Mr. Koss will be your test instructor. Where's your car?

W: I'm so excited to get my driver license.

M: Here's Mr. Koss. Good luck on your road test

1. What does the woman try to get

- A. A car.
- B. An Instructor
- C. A driver license
- D. A road test

2. M: Are they on strike? We've been waiting for half an hour.

W: It's late and this isn't a very busy neighborhood.

M: Oh, There's one. Quick! Wave at him.

2. What are they doing?

- A. Waiting for the bus.
- B. Waiting for help.
- C. Looking for a taxi.
- D. hitch-hiking

3-4. M: Betty, fancy seeing you here. I didn't know you rode the subway.

W: I don't usually. It's just that I'm fed up with driving and paying so much for gas, and the buses are crowded and unreliable. So I thought I'd give this a try.

M: I know what you mean. I started taking the subway two years ago, and it's wonderful! From the Scott Street station, it's only a block and a half to our building. And going home, the 52nd Street stop is only two blocks from my apartment. When I was driving, I wasn't getting nearly as much exercise.

W: Exactly! Plus, the subway's cheaper than gas in the long run. And the trains leave every 15 minutes, so if I miss one I don't have to wait long for another. So, did you say we should get off at Scott Street?

3. Who most likely are the speakers?

- A. College roommates
- B. Next-door neighbors
- C. Business colleagues
- D. Best friends

4. What are the speakers mainly discussing?

- A. The merits of the subway
- B. The high cost of gasoline
- C. Which station to get off at
- D. How to get more exercise

5. M: Excuse me. Do you know if I can catch the 325 express at this stop?

W: No, only the regular 325. You can catch the express on Fifth Street. Go up to the intersection, turn right, then take the first left onto Fifth. The stop will be on your right.

M: Thank you. Would you happen to know how often the 325 express runs?

W: Every 20 minutes, I believe. It's 3:10 now, so if you hustle you can catch the next one.

5. What does the man want to know?

- A. What time it is
- B. How to get downtown
- C. Where to board a bus
- D. Which street he is on

6. W: Tony, fancy seeing you here. You don't usually ride the bus.

M: I know. My car's in the shop, so I thought I'd give this a try.

W: Careful, you might become addicted. Riding the bus is great!

M: Sure -- if you like to wait forever and walk for miles.

W: Actually, the bus comes every 20 minutes. And it stops only a half-block away from our building. The best thing is the price: $15 a month with an annual pass. That's less than a tank of gas.

6. How does the man feel about riding the bus?

- A. Joyful
- B. Ambivalent
- C. Enthusiastic
- D. Skeptical

7. M: This is a very nice car. The suggested retail price is $14,825.

W: Yes, it is nice. But that's a bit over my budget. We were hoping to spend about $12,000.

M: Let me talk to my manager for a minute. I'll be right back. (Pause). I've got good news! My manager says we can lower the price to $13,995. Could you stretch your budget a little for such a great car?

W: I don't know. If it were $13,000, I might be able to.

7. What is the relationship between the speakers?

- A. Shopper-shopper
- B. Salesperson-buyer
- C. Manager-employee
- D. Company-client

8. W: Excuse me. I'm looking for Ken Anderson's office. I have a 3 o'clock appointment.

M: Sure. Go up the stairs and turn right. Take a left at the second hallway. Mr. Anderson's office will be the third door on your right. It's between the conference room and the employee lounge.

W: Thank you. So up the stairs and turn left?

M: No, right. Here, I'll show you.

8. Where is Mr. Anderson's office located?

- A. On the first hallway
- B. On the left-hand side
- C. On the second floor
- D. Between the restroom and lunch room.

9-10. M: To get from here to the stadium, you need to take two different lines, first the orange and then the blue. You can transfer at Central Station.

W: OK. I can catch the orange line at the Third Street Station just around the corner, can't I?

M: Yes. Take that line five stops to Central Station. From there catch the blue line, going west. Get off the blue line at the seventh stop; that'll be Straight Street. Exit the terminal by the north stairs, turn right, and walk one block to the stadium. To come back, just reverse the process.

9. Where does the woman want to go?

- A. To Third Street Station
- B. To Central Station
- C. To the stadium
- D. To Straight Street

10. What will the woman do at Central Station?

- A. Get off at the seventh stop
- B. Exit by the north stairs
- C. Reverse the process
- D. Change routes

11. W: Company headquarters are downtown, near the train station. Do you know how to get there?

M: I think so. I take the freeway to the train station exit. Then I turn right onto Fourth Avenue, then left onto Bay Street. Is that right?

W: Yes. After turning left onto Bay Street, go two blocks, and you'll see our building on the right-hand side, between the dentist office and the hair salon.

11. Where is the woman going?

- A. To the train station.
- B. To the dentist office.
- C. To the hair salon.
- D. To an office building.

12-13. M: That's seven fifty-two, out of 10. Here's your change. Thanks, and have a nice day!

W: Excuse me, I'm looking for the art museum. Do you know how to get there?

M: Let's see, the art museum is on 7th Avenue. The best way to get there is to go out our parking lot and turn right. Follow that street two blocks, and get into the left-hand turn lane. At the light for Mason Street, take a sharp left and go up five blocks to Seventh. Turn left. The museum will be on your right-hand side.

W: Thank you. Do you know if there's parking available at the museum?

M: Yes, there's a parking garage right next door.

12. Where is the conversation taking place?

- A. In a store
- B. At an office
- C. On a street corner
- D. At a bus stop

13. What does the woman plan to do?

- A. Buy a soft drink
- B. Go to the park
- C. Visit the art museum
- D. Ride the bus home

14-15. W: Hi Thomas! I haven't seen you in awhile.

M: Hey Debbie. Yes, it has been a long time. How's Gabe doing? I heard he got a promotion at the Business News.

W: Yes, he's going to be the special-sections editor. It's a great opportunity for him, and we can really use the extra money.

M: Tell him congratulations for me. We should get together for dinner sometime soon and catch up.
