C	areers and employment
E	Put the events in Josef Gutkind's career in chronological order.
	Josef was offered a position as a management trainee. He attended a second interview conducted by a panel of managers. He found a new job, but was dismissed after arguing with his boss. Two years later he was appointed Logistics Manager. He was short-listed for a second interview at Wilson Brothers. While he was unemployed Josef studied for a master's degree. When Wilson's got into difficulties, Josef was made redundant. In his early fifties he took a sabbatical to write a book. He retired from business and now lives in the south of France. Thanks to his enhanced CV, Josef was hired by a firm of consultants.
